

Program Description

Northfield Township Food Pantry clients attended a Slow Cooker Family Program Class sponsored by the Glenview Farmers Market and hosted at Wagner Farms.

The session started with a family meal of fiesta veggie casserole with brown rice. The parents learned how to incorporate more fruits, vegetables, and whole grains into their diets, and they learned how to utilize the slow cooker to prepare healthy family meals. The class menu focused on seasonal produce from the farmer's market, such as strawberry peach salsa with cilantro and blueberry peach cobbler. Parents learned how to stretch their food budget by utilizing the farmer's market and slow cooker recipes. At the same time, the children learned about the importance of eating fruits and vegetables, and made a yogurt dip with fruit kabobs.
